The Amendment contains currently dated Section 302 and Section 906 certifications as Exhibits 31.1, 31.2, 32.1 and 32.2.

No other changes were made to the Original Filing. This Amendment speaks as of the date of the Original Filing, does not reflect events that may have occurred subsequent to such date and, except as described above, does not modify or update in any way disclosures made in the Original Filing.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Board of Directors and Stockholders
Network-1 Technologies, Inc.

Opinion on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Network-1 Technologies, Inc. and Subsidiary (“the Company”) as of December 31, 2020 and 2019, and the related consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss, changes in stockholders’ equity, and cash flows for each of the years ended December 31, 2020 and 2019, and the related notes and schedules (collectively referred to as the consolidated financial statements). In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2020 and 2019, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for each of the years ended December 31, 2020 and 2019, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

These consolidated financial statements are the responsibility of the Company’s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company’s consolidated financial statements based on our audits. We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (“PCAOB”) and are required to be independent with respect to the Company in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud. The Company is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of its internal control over financial reporting. As part of our audits, we are required to obtain an understanding of internal control over financial reporting, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company’s internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion.

Our audits included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. Our audits also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Critical Audit Matters

The critical audit matter communicated below is a matter arising from the current period audit of the financial statements that were communicated or required to be communicated to the audit committee and that: (1) relate to accounts or disclosures that are material to the financial statements and (2) involved our especially challenging, subjective, or complex judgments. The communication of critical audit matters does not alter in any way our opinion on the financial statements, taken as a whole, and we are not, by communicating the critical audit matters below, providing separate opinions on the critical audit matters or on the accounts or disclosures to which they relate.

Revenue Recognition and Associated Contingency Fees

As described in Note B to the consolidated financial statements, the Company relies on royalty reports received from third party licensees to record its revenue for its royalty bearing licenses. Revenue earned on the Company's Fully-Paid Licenses, for which the Company has no future obligations or performance requirements is generally recognized when the Company has obtained the signed license agreement, all performance obligations have been substantially performed, amounts are fixed and determinable, and collectability is reasonably assured. The timing and amount of revenue recognized depends upon a number of factors including the specific terms of each agreement and the nature of the deliverables and obligations.

As described in Note B to the consolidated financial statements, the Company includes in cost of revenue and related costs contingent legal fees payable to patent litigation counsel related to net proceeds from settlements.

We identified revenue recognition and the associated contingency fees as a critical audit matter because the license agreements and contingency agreements involve interpretation and estimates by management in determining the consideration for each specific license agreement and the amount of the associated contingency fees.

Our audit procedures related to the Company's royalty bearing and fully paid licenses, and associated contingency fees included the following:

- We evaluated management's significant accounting policies and estimates related to royalty bearing and fully-paid license revenue.
- We obtained and examined the final settlement and license agreements entered into during the year and tested management's identification of the significant terms for completeness. We evaluated the appropriateness of management's application of their accounting principles, in their determination of revenue recognition.
- We reviewed the contingency fee agreements with the Company's legal counsel and evaluated management's estimates and calculations of contingency fees.
- We confirmed with third party legal counsel all outstanding legal costs and contingency fees outstanding as of December 31, 2020.

We have served as the Company's auditor since 2014.
